MONOXIDE GAS FATAL TO MRS. C. HARRINGTON

Popular Grand Detour Woman Found Dead in Closed Garage

Mrs. Claude Harrington, member of one of the oldest families in Dixon township where she had spent her entire life time, suicided during last night at her beautiful new home in Grand Detour. Her husband discovered the lifeless body slumped in the front seat of the automobile in the garage at their home at 4 o'clock this morning.

Coroner J. C. Aiken of Forreston conducted an inquest at the home at 9 o'clock this morning, the jury finding that death was due to monoxide gas poisoning with suicidal intent, due to idleness over a long period of ill health.

Mrs. Harrington arose during the night, dressed and quietly left the house. Her husband did not know the hour that she left the house, but recalled her arising and moving quietly about the room. Going to the garage, she removed a box containing kittens and a nest of small chickens which she sat outside, then closed the garage, climbed into the front seat of the car behind the steering wheel and started the motor. The motor had stopped but was still quite hot when Mr. Harrington went to the garage at the early hour this morning. She had left no word of her intended act, but apparently had carefully planned her death. The condition of the body indicated that death had taken place some time previous to the discovery.

Had Been Despondent.
Mrs. Harrington had been in ill health, suffering from a complication of ailments for several weeks and while she had never threatened taking her own life, she was known to be quite despondent over her condition and had failed rapidly during recent weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrington moved to Grand Detour this spring where they had built a beautiful new home, having retired from farming on the Harrington farm east of the city which the deceased had made a beauty spot for years.

She was born in Dixon township, June 28, 1881, and was the daughter of William and Mary DePuy, pioneer residents of this locality. She is survived by her husband; three sisters, Mrs. M. L. Dysart and Mrs. George Hawley of this city and Mrs. William Stabler of Rock Island; and three brothers, Jacob and William of Dixon township and Robert of Nachusa township. One brother, Oscar, preceded her in death.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

RAILWAY WRECK IN IOWA TODAY FATAL TO ONE

Three Critically Injured in Collision Near Morning Sun

Morning Sun, Ia., June 13—(AP)—Ten persons were injured, one fatally and at least three critically, when a Minneapolis & St. Paul freight train rammed a Rock Island passenger train at a track intersection a half mile south of here today.

Eli Meyers, 50, Oelwein, Ia., baggage man's helper, died shortly after he was taken to a hospital at Burlington, Ia. His skull was fractured.

The injured included: Marie Hochman, 22, 7800 Michigan Ave., St. Louis, Mo., back broken; Mrs. Helen Bisby, 38, 7800 Michigan Ave., St. Louis, and her son Billie, 8, minor injuries; Frank Froger, Monmouth, Ill., freight train brakeman, bruised and cut about the legs.

Both Claim "Clear Board"
Dr. R. W. Tandy, Morning Sun physician, was among the first to reach the scene of the wreck. He took several of the injured to Burlington, and ambulances carried the other injured.

Hundreds Are Reported To Be Dead In Blast

Writer Unwelcome

Rome, June 13—(AP)—The Italian government press bureau today expelled David Darrah, the Rome correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, Darrah and his wife were forced to leave immediately.

The reason for Darrah's expulsion was given as the writing of anti-Italian articles. It was said that Darrah had attacked the financial structure of the country and the allegiance of the people to the Fascist regime.

The correspondent's expulsion came shortly after the press bureau had banned the New York Times from entering Italy owing to a displeasing editorial entitled "Baldwin and Mussolini."

Darrah is the fourth foreign correspondent to be expelled from Italy since March, the others being two Germans and an Austrian.

KIDNAPERS ARE UNDER BIG BAIL

Man and Wife Temporarily Escape Washington's New Law

(Copyright, 1935, By The Associated Press.)
Tacoma, Wash., June 13—(AP)—Temporarily escaping Washington's new death-for-kidnapers law, Harmon M. Waley and his wife, Margaret, fought for their freedom today from the less stringent federal kidnap act for the abduction of one-year-old George Weyerhaeuser.

Even as they nonchalantly pleaded "not guilty" department authorities pressed their search in Montana and Canada for William Mahan, bank robber and former convict, charged as the third member of the snatch gang.

Apparently the Waleys, who were flown here yesterday from Salt Lake City, hope to beat the charge which put the case under federal jurisdiction—the allegation they crossed a state line, taking George to Blanchard and Spirit Lake in Idaho before his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser, Jr. bought his release with $200,000.

Bail Set at $100,000
The Waleys entered pleas of not guilty to the kidnap charge and to the charge they conspired with Mahan.

CONGRESS GETS NEW ORDERS ON 'MUST' PROGRAM

Quick Passage of Four Bills Demanded by President Today

Washington, June 13—(AP)—Congressional leaders heard from President Roosevelt's own lips today his insistence upon prompt enactment of the NRA extension, Wagner labor disputes, Guffey coal and transportation coordinator extension bills.

As a result, House Democratic chiefs planned to rush to enactment by tomorrow night the Senate resolution extending NRA for 9½ months and directing that any voluntary codes which suspend anti-trust laws must include guarantees of collective bargaining, minimum wages, maximum hours, prohibition of child labor and of unfair trade practices against existing law.

Also, Chairman O'Connor was authorized by his rules committee to call up whenever he sees fit the bill extending the position of transportation coordinator. He said he must seek House action today or tomorrow since the position expires at midnight Sunday unless the extension bill is passed.

Labor Bill Hearings
O'Connor decided, too, to call the committee into session tomorrow for a hearing on the Wagner labor disputes bill, which also has been passed by the Senate and approved by a House committee.

It was understood that the rules committee would grant right-of-way to that bill in time for it to pass the House next week.

The President, a conferee reported privately, likewise renewed his insistence upon prompt enactment of the Guffey coal bill, and was informed that the House Ways and Means committee was preparing to go to work on it.

For Alcohol Control
Likewise, it was added, the President expressed the hope that Congress would act promptly on a bill establishing a Federal alcohol control commission to replace the Federal alcohol control administration, ruled out of existence by the Supreme Court's declaration that NRA was unconstitutional.

One conferee, asking that his name not be used, said "the whole House Ways and Means committee will have to be shown why it is necessary to have a new, separate board to regulate liquor instead of giving that job to the Treasury."

He added, however, his understanding was that the treasury did not want to administer the liquor control laws.

Final congressional approval of the NRA extension resolution by tomorrow night was indicated today when Roosevelt told House leaders he was willing to accept the measure, passed earlier in the day by the Senate after crushing a 15½ hour filibuster by Senator Long (D-La.).

At a White House conference with House leaders, the President said he also would accept the Borah amendment to tighten enforcement of anti-trust laws.

Just before the conference, O'Connor, commenting on the Senate addition of the Borah amendment, said:

"To hell with them. If their amendment is what I understand it to be, the House wouldn't stand for it and I shall fight it."

GERMAN PLANT WRECKED TODAY BY EXPLOSION

Catastrophe One of Worst in History of that Nation

BULLETIN (Copyright, 1935, By The Associated Press)

Berlin, June 13—A new explosion at Reinsdorf, 52 miles southwest of Berlin, where an estimated 100 to 1,000 persons were killed when the big explosive factory blew up there at 3 P. M. today, early this evening caused authorities to order immediate evacuation of the entire village.

Copyright, 1935, By The Associated Press
Berlin, June 13—The big explosives works at Reinsdorf, 52 miles southwest of Berlin, where 13,000 persons are employed, blew up at 3 P. M. today with the deaths estimated variously between 100 and 1,000.

Practically every worker in the place was injured. The works are known as the Westfalian Anhalt explosives factory, covering a large area of ground. The main sections of the plant were reported wiped out.

The blast broke windows as far as 15 miles away in all directions. Approximately 675 square miles of territory felt the jar of the explosion.

Censorship Imposed
Secret police were immediately ordered to begin an investigation. A censorship was imposed upon the Wittberg area with the first reports emanating from residents before they were advised of the ban on giving out any news.

Fire burst out in the neighborhood, adding to the horrors of the terror-stricken and devastated area.

Physicians from the whole district and detachments of Red Cross workers were rushed into the ruins of the factory to care for the dying and the less seriously wounded.

Regular army, Nazi storm troops, picked blackshirt guards, and labor service units were immediately deployed around the huge works.

The uniformed men were equipped with gas masks to help them survive the fumes which poured out from the ruins.

Mrs. Ida C. Jackson Passed Away at Home of Daughter Here

Mrs. Ida C. Jackson widow of the late James H. Jackson, passed away Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry L. Quick, 521 East Chamberlain street, this city, where she was born Dec. 17, 1859, on the Earl Hamilton estate, Blumberg Province of Vestergratland, Sweden, and came to the United States at the age of 10 years. She lived in Moline for some time and was united in marriage to James H. Jackson at Sioux City, Iowa, in 1883. Five children were born to this union, three dying in infancy.

In 1896 the family moved to DeKalb where Mr. Jackson passed away in 1906. She took up her home with her daughter and family in Dixon in 1913 where she had since resided. She leaves to mourn her passing, her daughter, Mrs. Harry L. Quick of this city, a son Raymond of Akron, Ohio, and two grandchildren, Howard and Harry Quick of this city. Five brothers and sisters residing in the west also survive, together with a host of friends. Brief services will be conducted at the Quick residence Friday afternoon at 1:30 and at the Grace Evangelical church at 2 o'clock. Rev. A. D. Shaffer officiating and with interment in Fairview cemetery at DeKalb.

"Long Job" Says Hoover Of Long's Filibuster

Chicago, June 13—(AP)—Sen. Huey P. Long's senate filibuster was the only piece of political news which brought comment from former President Hoover as he stepped off the Century Limited today, en route to his California home.

Told the Louisiana senator had passed the 15 hour mark early today in his talking marathon, Hoover said "that's a long job."

"Natl. Racketeers Assn." "Never Roosevelt Again" Long's Definition N. R. A.

Louisiana Senator Expounded Views in 16 Hour Filibuster

Washington, July 13—(AP)—In a surprise move that made Democratic leaders desperate, Senator Schall, blind Republican from Minnesota, carried on the anti-NRA filibuster today, permitting Senator Long (D-La.) to totter to a seat after speaking nearly 16 hours.

Grown glacially of countenance, Long turned the fight over to Schall shortly before 4 A. M. after the Louisiana Senator had kept the senate in session all night and blocked a vote on the plfn to extend a hollow NRA until next April.

In the quick shift of speakers, there was much parliamentary wrangling and maneuvering, but out of it Senator Schall emerged with permission to have the clerk read a speech attacking the "Little Richbergs" of the administration. It was a huge manuscript, and the senators settled down for a long siege.

Even when the Schall speech was concluded, the filibuster did not end. Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) who had helped Long get bits of rest for his vocal cords by asking him lengthy, involved questions, took the floor to move that the so-called security bill be taken up in place of NRA. McCarran then began to speak on that motion.

Long Gives Advice
Previously, when Schall, a bitter critic of President Roosevelt, got the floor, Long went outside and posed for photographs, but a few minutes later he was back, sprawled in a chair near Schall, advising him how to proceed.

Just before the Louisiana got his relief, he had told the administration leaders, in a voice that resembled a croak, that he would continue indefinitely the speech he began at 12:20 P. M. yesterday.

Around him sat angry Democratic leaders, heavy-lidded and exhausted, but expressing determination to shatter Long's "control" over the senate by blocking a recess until he dropped or cried "quits."

Long's speech, veteran senators said, was by far the record for physical endurance of the kind. Other filibusters had lasted longer, but they had been waged by a group of senators or by one senator with "rest periods."

Long's wandering discourse roamed from the correct way to wash turnip greens through readings from the Bible and Victor Hugo, to a long short story about how Vice President Garner "shot a deer from a tree and then fell out of the tree." He lectured the senate on the Constitution and the art of cookery.

The obvious aim was to trouble the Roosevelt administration by preventing the adoption of its stop-gap NRA plan before next Sunday, when the whole recovery law expires.

A subsidiary object was to prevent the Democrats from scrapping an amendment offered by Senator Gore (D-Okla.) This amendment would require senate confirmation of all officials in the executive branch of the government who draw more than $4,000 a year.

Long was eager to see that go through because the administration has been appointing political enemies of his to federal positions in Louisiana.

"National Racketeers Assn."
Long called the NRA "the National Racketeers Association" and the "Never Roosevelt Again" read the anti-trust section of the Democratic national platform for 1932, picked up the Bible and quoted "a good name is better than possessions."

"A good name is all the Democratic party had then," he said, referring to the '32 convention. "I used all its capital stock in making promises to the people of what we were going to do."

Then he went on to compare the senate with a guinea hen.

WILL TURN DIRT FOR MODEL HOME HERE SATURDAY

Public Officials to Assist in Beginning of the Drive for Homes

National Better Housing Day—Saturday—when between 4,000 and 5,000 model homes, financed by the Federal Housing Administration, will be started throughout the country, will be observed in Dixon by the turning of the ground for a modern home at 910 North Dixon ave., just north of Graham street, and the event will be made the occasion for a celebration to be participated in by city officials and other citizens who are active in this campaign.

The home is to be built by De-mont Schuler, who will erect a $5,000 residence of the Cape Cod style, $4,000 of its cost being furnished by the FHA, and the local FHA committee will have the right to sell the down payment and contract at any time after the first dirt is turned.

The main part of the two story home will be 26 by 24 feet and it will be on a lot of 150 by 50 feet. The first floor ceilings are to be eight feet high, with seven and one-half foot ceilings on the second floor.

Dixon Under-Housed
This opening of a concerted FHA campaign in Dixon, to remedy the noticeably underhoused condition of this city, will take place at the site on North Dixon avenue at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and every citizen is invited to attend. It is part of the nation-wide campaign to make the United States a country of home-owners, free from the influences of Communism, Fascism, etc.

It is estimated that the shortage of suitable houses in the United States is between two and five millions. The efforts of the FHA and thousands of citizens everywhere are being directed to secure the erection of these needed homes, thereby making America a much happier and better place in which to live, and putting the building industry, second only to agriculture in its importance to the prosperity of the country, back to work.

The FHA makes it possible for anyone who has a job or an income to own his own home, and the local committee, with headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce office, has complete detailed information on the way the FHA assistance can be secured.

Bank Clearings for Week Shows Increase

New York, June 13—(AP)—Bank clearings for the week ended June 12 amounted to $4,776,778,000 against $4,599,382,000 in the corresponding week last year, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. The volume exceeded the previous week in which there was a holiday, by $51,318,000.

The figures were substantially higher at most of the leading cities of the west and south. The total for New York City, $3,116,783,000, was slightly behind last year, while the aggregate for other centers was 12 per cent higher at $1,659,995,000.

Chicago clearings amounted to $245,506,000 against $221,300,000 last year.

Farmer-Labor Official Calls for Third Party
St. Paul, June 13—(AP)—Farmer-Laborite, trade unionist and Socialist leaders today threw their weight behind a third party movement in 1936.

Other insurgent groups, notably the Wisconsin LaFollette Progressives, and the Nebraska Democratic faction headed by former Governor Bryan, brother of the "Great Commoner," withheld comment for the present.

Howard Y. Williams, national organizer for the Farmer-Labor party, issued a call today for a third party convention to meet in Chicago July 5 and 6.

Aversion of General Miners Strike Sunday Night Seems Impossible as Producers Submit New Guffey Bill

Washington, June 13—(AP)—Soft coal producers favoring the Guffey coal stabilization bill today completed a new draft of the measure to create a "little NRA" for the bituminous industry, but little chance was seen of averting a general walkout of miners set for Sunday night.

Long's Talk Costly

Washington, June 13—(AP)—The cost of recording the things that Senator Long (D-La.) said about fried oysters, guinea hens, turnip greens and others matters in his 15½ hour filibuster against extending NRA was estimated today at $4,650.

After the first ten hours of his speech, James W. Murphy, chief Senate reporter, figured that enough words had been spoken to fill 60 pages in the Congressional Record at a cost of $50 a page. At that rate the cost of printing the "pot, liker" and fried oyster recipes which Long recited would alone be around $100.

It was estimated by reporters that the Senator and others who took part occasionally in the filibuster averaged 150 words a minute, or 9,000 an hour.

CLIPPER PLANE AGAIN SUCCEEDS

California - to - Honolulu Flight is Completed in Nineteen Hours

Honolulu, June 13—(AP)—The Pan-American Airways Clipper plane arrived at Pearl Harbor, near here, at 6:26 A. M. today (10:56 A. M. Central Standard time) from Alameda, Calif.

The giant seaplane completed the first leg of its pioneering commercial flight to Midway Island in just three minutes under 18 hours, which apparently was the schedule on which she was running.

She came out of the east over Diamond Head flying very fast. The plane shot over Honolulu, circled over the airbase at Pearl Harbor in a long sweep three miles seaward, then settled down in the long arm of the channel for a perfect landing.

A gentle northeast wind was blowing on her tail as she arrived.

Awaited Bad Weather.
Among the first to greet Captain Edwin H. Musick and his crew of five were the plane inspectors of the Department of Agriculture, who were waiting to give the craft a routine inspection.

When the Clipper left Alameda yesterday at 4:59 P. M. (CST) it was disclosed the flight had been delayed until weather reports indicated stormy conditions might be found somewhere on the first leg of the trip. Such conditions, it was explained were desired so tests might be made to determine their effect on regularly scheduled trans-Pacific flights in the future.

When the Clipper made the same flight, its first, last April, 17 hours and 44 minutes elapsed before it was sighted over Honolulu. On the return trip a few days later, more than 20 hours were required.

FIVE TOWNSHIPS MUST SEEK NEW PLAN TO BUY IT

Finance Committee and Co. Supt. Seek Way Out of Situation

The board of supervisors and highway commissioners of Viola, Lee Center, Amboy, Bradford and China townships were today endeavoring to arrive at some plan whereby the right of way for state route 71 across a large portion of Lee county may be procured. The finance committee of the county board at this morning's session presented majority and minority reports which were considered at some length. The majority report denied loans to the various townships of funds from the general fund of the county treasury to be used for the purchase of right of way, three miles of which is a new survey. This was the report which was adopted by the board before adjournment at noon today.

The minority report which was signed by two members of the finance committee recommended the loan of moneys from the county general fund to the five townships to be used in the right of way purchase and to be repaid in annual installments. Supervisor Leon Garrison of the finance committee informed the board that Lee county's financial condition was very sound at the present time and that the committee hoped that this condition might continue. The loan of sums from this fund, he added, would cripple the general fund and leave no provision for an emergency. He also called attention to loans which had been made to townships from the general fund to be used for work relief purposes and stated that several of the townships were not prompt in repaying their proportionate sums. He opposed the loan plan from the county general fund, stating that the committee was in no manner opposing the construction of the new state highway, but favored the adoption of some other plan with which to purchase the necessary right of way.

Denial Called Unfair
Supervisor Charles Ramsdell of China township told the board that the adoption of the majority report was unfair to the townships through which the state road would be routed. County Superintendent of Highways Fred Leake suggested plans for securing the amount necessary for the procurement of the right of way. He stated that the county's share of the state motor fuel tax refund might be used for this purpose, provided that a sufficient amount was available in the treasury, but added that the fund at the present time was insufficient. He informed the board that in order to purchase the right of way from the motor fuel tax fund it would be necessary that the board adopt a resolution, appropriating this money for the specific purpose and halt all other work planned from this source of revenue.

"The finance committee is in 73 way opposed to the proposed new highway," Supervisor Garrison stated, "but we are making an effort to protect the county's finances."

RESTORATION OF MANY PENSIONS TO BE DEMANDED

Group House Members Determined to Carry on Fight

Washington, June 13—(AP)—A group of house members determined to wipe out practically the last vestiges of the famed "economy act of 1933" by spending $31,000,000 to $45,000,000 more annually on war veterans prepared today to visit President Roosevelt.

Their primary interest was restoration of pensions to a group of Spanish American war, Boxer rebellion and Philippine insurrection veterans.

The economy act, enacted just after Roosevelt took office, in effect forbade pensions to these veterans who could not prove their disabilities were directly attributable to war service. In some cases it reduced the amounts of the pensions to those who could.

The house pensions committee approved a bill by Rep. Smith (D-Wash.) restoring those cuts. Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) of the rules committee declined, however, to let the bill reach the floor unless Roosevelt was consulted first.

So today, Smith was arranging a conference with the president.

Roger Little's Contest Faces Quick Dismissal

Springfield, Ill., June 13—(AP)—The election contest filed by Roger Little of Champaign, former Republican floor leader in the house, is to be dismissed, probably this week. The sub-committee's report recommending dismissal was adopted by the full committee yesterday and will be submitted to the house soon with every indication that it will be adopted.

CONDUCTED INQUEST

Coroner Frank M. Banker was called to Dixon yesterday afternoon to conduct an inquest over the body of Miss Fanny Kelly, 68-year-old Dixon state hospital patient who passed away at the institution at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. The inquest was conducted in the Jones funeral home, the jury rendering a verdict finding that death was due to lobar pneumonia, contributory to a hip fracture the deceased suffered in an accidental fall about three weeks ago.

Rev. Fr. Coughlin Goes to Court Today to Get Use Stadium

Chicago, June 13—(AP)—Father Charles E. Coughlin's battle for the use of Soldiers Field for a mass meeting June 19 was carried into Cook county superior court today when his attorney filed a petition for a writ of mandamus directed against the Chicago Park Board. The board has refused applications for use of the stadium for that purpose. Samuel A. Etelson, attorney for the Detroit priest, had the summons made returnable June 19 and said he would demand an immediate hearing. The petition asks that use of the field be granted on the date asked or a date "approximate thereto." Father Coughlin had asked to rent the stadium to address Chicago followers of his National Union for Social Justice. In refusing, the park board said the stadium could not be used for "political propaganda."

Gasoline Price Will be Advanced Tomorrow

Chicago—An increase of three-tenths of a cent a gallon, effective Friday, on all grades of gasoline at tank wagons and service stations throughout its territory was announced by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

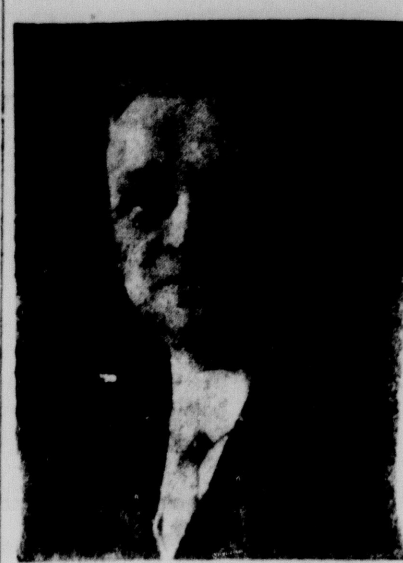

Number of Families on Relief Decreases

Chicago—A decrease of 21,058 in the number of families on state relief rolls to 291,977 in May was reported by the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission. The decline amounted to 6.7 per cent from the April total of 313,035 and was exceeded only by the declines for July, 1933, and January, 1934.

Two Chicago Doctors Face Prison Sentence

Chicago—Sentences of one to 14 years faced Drs. Frank R. Braune, 49, and Maurice L. Dale, 33, following conviction on a manslaughter charge in the death of Miss Marie Dwyer, 25, laboratory technician, after an operation. Motion for a new trial was set for June 21. Dr. Braune faced a murder charge in another death. A patent granted to P. W. Ham in 1918 was witnessed by C. Pickles and J. Herring. It is estimated rats cause an annual damage of $6,000,000 in Chicago.

AT HOMECOMING

REV. C. G. BECKSTRAND

Associate pastor, Trinity Lutheran church, Rockford, will open the Second Annual Nachusa Homecoming Day celebration at the Nachusa Orphanage Sunday morning, 10:00 A. M., with a special address. It is estimated that 10,000 Lutherans who are members of the Illinois Synod, United Lutheran Church of America, will attend the homecoming which is sponsored by the laymen of the church to acquaint the members with the needs of the institution.

Once Senator Barkley suggested that Long leave off speaking and singing. "When I sing," Long said, "it will be for somebody who is better looking than the senator from Kentucky."

RESTORATION—

Whitset of Viola township informed the board members that the building of the route 71 highway and the cost of procuring the necessary right of way was not a debt against the county, but fell entirely upon the townships through which the survey passes. Without available funds to pay for the right of way, he added, there can be no road. The discussion lasted until well past the noon hour when the board recessed for lunch. Supervisor L. D. Hemenway presented a motion which was unanimously carried, whereby the finance committee and the county superintendent of highways were authorized to recommend the adoption of some plan at this meeting whereby the right of way in dispute can be paid for.

han to use the mails to defraud George's father of the ransom sum. Their bail on the conspiracy charge was set at $100,000 each. No bail was set on the kidnap charge. Informed of the pleas, Pierce Co. Prosecutor Harry H. Johnson asserted: "If they beat the federal case, I will file under the state law and demand the death penalty. Even if they are convicted in federal court and sentenced to life imprisonment, I can and will place a 'hold' on them so if they ever are paroled, we can immediately try them under the state law." Washington's untied kidnap law makes death the automatic penalty for kidnaping unless the jury recommends life imprisonment. The Lindbergh law provides death only in case the victim is harmed.

Girl Scouts Day Camp at Reynoldswoode Has Been an Unqualified Success

Promoters Hope to Make Outing Here an Annual Event

The Girl Scout Day Camp held for three days at Reynoldswoode has been an unqualified success, judging not alone from the happy and interested faces of the campers but from results obtained. A trip to this beautiful estate is always enjoyed, but at the present time it is especially interesting and delightful. The trip was well worth anyone's time. Mr. and Mrs. John Ralston kindly loaned the use of their grounds and conveniences to the leaders and Scouts who heartily appreciate their generosity. The funds derived from the Girl Scout drive last fall was devoted to this purpose this summer and it is hoped that this summer camp will be an annual affair hereafter. Comparatively few of the Girl Scouts in Dixon have had the privilege of attending the Scout Camp near Edgerton, and this day camp is conducted on exactly the same lines as the larger camps. Each morning the girls are taken to the camp in trucks or private cars and are returned home each evening safely. In the morning the girls register. Yesterday there were 111 in camp. The Boy and Girl Scout camps are the ideal camps, and all other camps derive their code of conduct from them. The headquarters of the Girl Scout Camp was visited at about 2:30 yesterday afternoon where the leaders were enjoying a brief respite from their labors and incidentally, the delicious treat of tutti frutti ice cream furnished by Mrs. J. G. Ralston. Here were counselors and Scout leaders. We saw Mrs. W. D. Hart, Mrs. T. J. Miller, Jr., Mrs. John Davies, Mrs. J. G. Ralston, Mrs. Harry Warner, Miss Dorothy Helmick, Mrs. Hardy, the Scout Executive; Mrs. Winston Edwards and Miss Dorothy Dodd. Miss Dodd is Camp Director and Mrs. Winston Edwards is camp chairman and she has been busy for weeks. Mrs. Joe Crawford has been directing the cooking. The 111 Scouts had a great day Wednesday. There were 51 Merriwoods 37 Indians and 22 Pioneers. They finished up their handicraft, had a class in nature study, conducted by Mrs. Cries, which was of great interest. A number of visitors visit the camp each day. Girl Scouts are taught how to cook, make beds, sew, swim, paint, model, carve, etc., in fact, a Girl Scout is the wholesome, resourceful womanly girl she was meant to be in God's plan for us all. The Day Camp is a boon for the mothers who want their young daughters to enjoy the advantages and fun of Scout camp but who cannot afford to send them out of the city, or do not like to have tiny girls away from them for more than a day. The Day Camp covers a large area at Reynoldswoode, each unit having as much space as they desire, and here and there are dotted tables with eager and earnest young faces bent over the tasks in hand. The Merriwoods were visited and they were busy as bees making Robin Hood caps. Then the Indian unit was visited and the Pioneer unit. The handicraft table was especially interesting, with its intricate needlework and its artistic pictures, some of the dainty bits made from floral wall paper designs, etc. The clay modeling table also had its followers. One young exhibitor having a creditable grey vase almost ready for inspection. The Pioneers, the older girls, have a shelter and fireplace, which they made themselves. At the site of the Pioneer's Unit a pageant will be given this evening, an excellent place being available for the audience on a mound or hill and then across a little ravine is the natural amphitheater, where the program is to be given. Cars seeking entrance should pass the regular opening on the middle road for Reynoldswoode and go just a bit farther where a sign on a gate will direct, and there is ample space for the parking of cars, men will be present to direct the parking. The pageant and program will tell of early Dixon history and all about Scout life, and some of the incidents of real Scouts, like Buffalo Bill, will be enacted, or at least, recalled. It is so easy to return to stories of our pioneers and the builders of our civilized surroundings in close touch with Mother Nature as the Scouts are now at Reynoldswoode. Never has Reynoldswoode been more beautiful, its lovely drives through cool green verdure and under noble trees and overhanging bluffs being for some distance in plain view of the Rock. No doubt the attendance at the pageant will be large. The campfire tonight is at 7:30 and everyone is cordially invited. Take the middle Sterling road past Reynoldswoode, entrance to first gate on left. Each unit will give a stunt and the Misses Woll and Coakley will present a pageant. The Pageant Tonight In dramatics the Girl Scouts have turned their attention to the incidents of early Dixon and Rock River history, centering their interest in the characters of Black Hawk, Abraham Lincoln, the Dixon family, and others. These stories of local interest were told to the girls and dramatized in pantomime. All of these dramatizations will be assembled into a pageant for presentation at the camp fire this evening. The various episodes will be as follows: 1. Black Hawk, a young boy, bring in his first scalp and made a brave. 2. Keokuk, Wapello and Black Hawk sign a treaty agreeing to move west of the Mississippi. 3. Father John Dixon and his family, entertaining travelers to Galena, are brought word that the Indians are on the warpath. 4. A party of pioneers are attacked by Indians. 5. General Zachary Taylor and his officers make plans for building Fort Dixon. 6. Regulars and volunteers attack the Indians, capturing Black Hawk and the Prophet. 7. Black Hawk and the Prophet are held as military prisoners, while Keokuk and Wapello sign the peace treaty. The following girls have been chosen to dramatize the chief characters: Black Hawk—Marilyn Crawford. Medicine Man—Jane Phalen. Keokuk—Jeanne Cesteros. Wapello—Elizabeth Warner. Gov. Reynolds—Jean Moore. Gen. Gaines—Nancy Anne Richards. Interpreter—Sylvia Heckman. Father John Dixon—Jean Hart. Mrs. Dixon—Margaret Davies. Dixon children—Sarah Hasselberg, Lois Lee Blimling, Jean Meeks Virginia Dodd, Mary Lucille Burke. Peter Cartwright—Dorothy Geoke. Col. James Strode—Winnie Loftis. Indian Messenger—Joyce Stansell. Col. Wm. Hamilton—Mary Jane Richie. Col. Nathan Boone—Carol Crawford. Gen. Zachary Taylor—Elizabeth Davies. Gen. Winfield Scott—Jeanne Rambeau. Gen. Whiteside—Alice Countryman. Col. Dement—Betty Reynolds. Capt. Abraham Lincoln—Jerry Giannoni. Lieut. Jefferson Davis—Louis Miller. Gen. Street—Betty Allen. The Prophet—Mable Louise Potter. Fiddler—Elinor Dodd. Announcer—Lorraine Williams. The Pioneer and Indian Units are providing characteristic Indian dances, while soldiers have been selected from the Pioneer and Merriwood units. The camp's success is due to the cooperation of a great number of people. Mr. Gus Whimpeberg helped establish camp on Monday. Mrs. Whimpeberg was purchaser of supplies. Mrs. Harry Edwards arranged transportation. Mrs. Joe Crawford purchased food and Mrs. W. D. Hart was registrar. The Ralstons are the busy hosts and all Dixon Girl Scouts are very grateful for the use of Reynoldswoode. Mrs. R. L. Baird has been in charge of the First Aid tent. Thursday is the last day and a camp fire will end the three days of pleasant and constructive camping. Camp hours Thursday will be from 1 to 9 P. M. Girl Scout Staff Director—Dorothy Jane Dodd. Asst. Director—Dorothy Hardy. Camp chairman—Mrs. Winston Edwards. First Aid Unit—Mrs. R. L. Baird. Mrs. John Davies and Mrs. Stewart Nettz. Some Activities At Country Club

Twenty ladies gathered at the Dixon Country Club Tuesday for luncheon and bridge and spent a happy afternoon. Decorations of iris and peonies were pretty. Mrs. Henry Hey won high honors at bridge. On Wednesday the same number met at the club for luncheon and golf and Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Billig tied, with Mrs. Billig winning the play off. A bridge dinner will be given at the Country Club Monday evening and reservations are requested to be made by noon, Saturday.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

GOSPEL TEST Interest in the tent meeting is increasing each evening and stirring messages by Evangelist Oestema are enjoyed and appreciated. Last night he spoke on "The Three A's of Blessing." Referring to his text "If any man thirst let him come unto Me and drink," the evangelist referred to the three A's as "Appetite, Approval and Appreciation," thirsting, coming and drinking. The delegation from Morrison will return on Friday night and it will be much larger than last night. They will again have charge of the music. Meetings each night at 7:30. All seats free.

STRAINED RELATIONS

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

"I HARDLY like to say," writes a young woman, "even to you, what I want to say, and I don't know whether I can make myself clear. But really I must get it out of my system, somehow."

"Briefly, it is this way. There are lots of homes where young folk over sixteen don't like their parents, and where brothers and sisters don't like one another even a little bit."

"Ought we to love a man just because he happens to be our father, if he has never tried to understand us, and has always seemed to find us a nuisance, and is glad when we are out of the way?"

"Ought sisters to love one another merely because they happen to be sisters, if they have nothing at all in common, and always irritate one another? And if they ought, why is it they can't?"

"If I put it bluntly, it is because I am stating the fact. It is so even in homes where religion is professed and it does not seem to make any difference, so far as I am able to see."

"How strange it sounds, and yet it is often a fact, judging from what one sees, hears, and knows. In how many homes is there such a sense of strain and friction, even when it does not break out in 'rows'?"

All of us live under terrible pressure these days, and it tells in our home-life. The quiet home of other days is well nigh gone, our interests are diverse, and we get all awry.

Close blood relationship does not always mean love. It is a great pity that people take it for granted that it does. There is the trouble—we take too much for granted on all sides.

Selfishness, of course, is at the bottom of it all. We must win, earn and deserve love, and that asks for tenderness and tact. If we forget, or neglect, and give way to our worst, love may die.

If we cannot live with ourselves and keep the peace, we may not hope to live with others, even in the home, without friction. We must cherish and protect and care for the love that comes to us.

Review of Some M.E. Activities at Franklin Camp Meeting

The series of activities of the Methodist Episcopal church of Joliet-Dixon district at Franklin Grove camp grounds at Franklin Grove will commence Wednesday, June 19.

The Woman's Home Missionary society will open the camp activities with a one day meeting, Wednesday June 19. Registration will be at 9:30 A. M. Central Standard Time. At 10 o'clock the meeting will be opened with Devotions by Mrs. H. E. Rompel, Ottawa, Ill. Mrs. L. E. Lackland, Sycamore, will have charge of the music. Mrs. Florence Fabrey, Evanston, will speak on "Citizenship." Mrs. Orval Murray, Evanston, will talk on "Program building." The Dixon Auxiliary will furnish a special number. Mrs. H. R. Clarke, LaGrange, will talk on "Unfinished Work." Mrs. Mann, of DeKalb, is in charge of special music.

There will be a roll call of Auxiliaries and "A Japanese Sketch" by the Rochelle Auxiliary. Best of all, Miss Helen Johnson, National Field Secretary, will be present and give an address in the afternoon.

All coming are urged to bring a picnic lunch. Coffee, sugar and cream can be purchased on the grounds. Come! Bring your lunch—let's eat together—worship together, and get better acquainted.

Those not desiring to bring lunch will please get their reservations in to Mrs. F. W. Teachout, 644 Congress St., Ottawa, Ill., and arrangements will be made to furnish a light meal by the cook that will be there for the girls camp.

The Queen Esther girls are invited to come in the morning, bring their lunch and meet with the "Mother" Auxiliary.

Camp Inspiration, a camp for Queen Esther and Standard Bearer girls will open in the evening of June 19, continuing through the following Sunday.

Sunday, June 30 Bishop Waldorf will be at Franklin Grove Camp for a great Methodist rally at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Members of the Dixon Auxiliary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society who can attend the meeting Wednesday, June 19 will please call Mrs. W. E. Whitson, 516 Highland Ave., Phone No. M964 and she will arrange for transportation. Those having cars and will take others, please call Mrs. Whitson.

May there be a good representation from the Dixon Auxiliary, the Wesleyan Missionary Society and Queen Esther's representing the Woman's Home Missionary society from the Dixon church.

Attend Brotherhood Meet Here

About 20 members of the Men's Brotherhood of St. John's Lutheran church in Sterling journeyed to Dixon Tuesday night to attend the Northern Illinois district of Lutheran men, and saw one of their number, Fred Hay, installed as president of the district organization.

There were about 150 delegates from various towns in northwestern Illinois, who gathered in St. Paul's Lutheran church at Dixon for the meeting. Herman Brandmiller, formerly a member of St. John's but now at Dixon, was one of the speakers. His subject was the "Fifth Objective of the Brotherhood." This relates to Christian Citizenship, and proved to be an informative and inspiring address.

Plans were then discussed concerning the annual homecoming at the Nachusa orphanage which is to be next Sunday. It is expected there will be from 6,000 to 8,000 visitors that day, Sunday, June 16.

NURSES PLEASED WITH PUBLIC'S COOPERATION

The Nurses Alumnae of the Katherine Shaw Betha Hospital are pleased with the cooperation of the public in their benefit dance held at Masonic Temple Tuesday evening, the funds being used for Miss Kauffman a graduate nurse of Katherine Shaw Betha Hospital, who was yesterday removed to Naperville Sanitarium for treatment. The music was good, and the entire evening, as reported in last evening's Telegraph, was a great success, socially and financially.

Another dance is to be given in the near future for the same purpose.

Cream fat and sugar. Add rest of ingredients and beat 2 minutes. Half fill greased baking pans or paper cups. Bake 15 minutes in moderate oven. Cool and frost.

Frosting

3 tablespoons butter

3 tablespoons hot cream

1 teaspoon vanilla

1-4 teaspoon lemon extract

1-8 teaspoon salt

1-2-3 cups sifted confectioner's sugar

Mix ingredients and stir well. Let stand 10 minutes. Beat until very creamy. Frost cakes.

Caramel and butterscotch sauces win favor with many. Keep some in covered jar in ice box.

Use scissors for removing centers from tomatoes to be stuffed.

REV. AND MRS. JOYCE TO BE HERE SATURDAY

Rev. and Mrs. W. Taylor Joyce and the Ambassador Trio from the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, are expected in Dixon Saturday afternoon.

Sunday morning they will go to Elkhorn church, west of Polo, of which Rev. Gerard Kok is pastor, to have charge of the service there.

In the evening at 7:30, they will be at Grace Evangelical church. Rev. Joyce who is director of the Correspondence School of the Institute, will give the address of the evening and present certificates to the class which has recently finished the correspondence course, "Great Epochs of Sacred History." The trio will sing. You are invited to attend.

Miss Hart Was Married Dec. 29, 1934

Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Hart of Dixon and Prophetstown announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Josephine Hart, and Ray H. Mueller of Maquoketa, Ia., which occurred December 29, 1934, at the parsonage of the Methodist church at New Lenox, the Rev. J. D. Dibble officiating.

The bride graduated from the Dixon high school and received her B. A. degree this year from Cornell college. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Mueller of Maquoketa high school in 1930 and from Cornell college in 1934 with a B. S. degree. He majored in electrical engineering.

For the present the couple are in the home of the bride's mother and grandmother in Prophetstown.

Miller-McAndrews Wedding in Sterling

At 7 o'clock nuptial mass Wednesday morning in St. Mary's Catholic church in Sterling, Miss Catherine Miller, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Miller of Nelson school and later attended Community high school. The groom received his education in St. Mary's grade school and later graduated from Community high school. The bride's traveling costume was a yellow ensemble with white accessories.

Two Daughters Graduate With Honors

Attorney and Mrs. Harry Warner have the unusual and delightful experience this year, of having two daughters graduate at the close of the school year from institutions of higher learning. Miss Louise Warner graduated from Frances Shimer Seminary and Miss Myra Alice Warner received her A. B. degree in law from the University of Chicago.

Miss Warner was the only girl in the law class of fifty students, the requirements for passing being unusually severe.

SPORT AND PROSPERITY
Economists and statisticians have been overlooking an interesting set of prosperity indices, says John Kieran, sports writer for the New York Times. Obliviously he fills the gap by listing Decoration Day attendance at a lot of sport events in various parts of the country. Many of these affairs drew record crowds.

There were 155,000 spectators at the Indianapolis Speedway watching motor races. There were 35,000 at horse races in Belmont Park. Baseball games brought out more than 40,000 in Pittsburgh, 42,000 in Chicago, 18,000 in Philadelphia, 15,000 in Washington. They turned crowds away at the Polo Grounds in New York because other crowds had filled all the available space early.

In addition to these counted throngs, there were uncounted thousands on that day playing or watching golf and tennis games, attending regattas on lakes and rivers and following races and baseball in less famous places. Says Mr. Kieran:

"It takes money to put over a program like that, and those who turned out must have it. They didn't just pause at these sports events on their way to the poorhouse over the hill."

Which is true. The sports index is a very cheerful one in many ways. But taken along with the unavoidable unemployment figures it offers further evidence that distribution of prosperity is a problem still unsolved.

MURDER THROUGH THE YEARS
Children playing in a field near Vilna, Poland, the other day found an old shell, buried in the soil since World War Days. They began, ignorantly, to play with it. It exploded, and 14 children were killed.

This sort of tragedy is not uncommon in Europe, where there are many battlefields sown with high explosives. It is a dreadful commentary on the far-reaching effects of the last war; and it is even grimmer as a forecast on the next one.

There probably is not a man on earth so cruel and heartless that he would not do all in his power to save a group of children from destruction, if he found them playing with an unexploded shell. And yet—what are we to say of ourselves, when we reflect that every great nation is busily preparing for a new war in which the murder of children by high explosives will be taken for granted?

IN A TECHNICAL TANGLE
The way in which the law will go all the way around Robin Hood's barn to nail down a seemingly unimportant point occasionally impresses the layman as foolish. But now and then a court case pops up to prove that this extreme care with obscure details is necessary.

An example was furnished recently by an accident to a longshoreman at Port Huron, Mich. This man was on ship, helping to unload it, when he was struck by a swinging boom, a flying cable, or something, and knocked off the deck on to the dock and injured.

He sued the steamship line for compensation under the longshoremen's act; and the owners replied that he should sue under the Michigan compensation act, since he was hurt, not aboard ship, but when he hit the dock—on Michigan soil, under the jurisdiction of Michigan laws!

When a seemingly simple case can develop a technicality like that, it is evident that there is a sound reason for the extreme complexity of legal language.

WHEN ODDS ARE HIGH
The instinct to gamble seems to be about as deeply rooted an urge as the human race possesses. Nevertheless, even the most confirmed take-a-chance addict likes to get something in the nature of a run for his money.

Announcement of the awards in the Irish sweepstakes indicates how microscopic the chances of a lottery ticket purchaser are of really winning anything.

Tickets were sold to 2,443,000 Americans in this last sweepstakes. Seven of these people—precisely seven—split the rich prizes. That makes the odds approximately 350,000 to one against the average ticket-holder.

When odds are as long as that, the buyer of a ticket can't really be galled a gambler. "Sucker" is a much better word.

A LESSON FROM EXPERIENCE
If the burnt child fears the fire, the American people ought to have a fairly wary and suspicious attitude toward the business of loaning American money to nations which are at war.

That being the case, they ought to be interested in a bill recently introduced in Congress. This bill, sponsored by Representative Klobb of Ohio, would prohibit the making of loans by anyone in the United States to any nation engaged in war, or to any citizens or organizations in such a nation, unless that nation were the active ally of the United States.

The bill is due for a hearing before the House Foreign Affairs Committee on June 18, and the ordinary citizen might reasonably be expected to hope that it wins approval. The course of history from 1917 onward might have been vastly different if such a law had been passed 20 years ago.

As the Supreme Court judges start their summer vacation, the President waves his hand and says: "Take all the time you want, gentlemen."

Ninety per cent of the world's useful work is done by morons.—Dr. Robert S. Drew, addressing Detroit club.

THE TWYMANITIES

(READ THE STORY THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.)

The root beer tasted mighty good, and all the bunch drank all they could. Wee Scouty, who had tipped the keg, was last to get his share.

He held his acorn cup up high, and shouted, "I suggest we try to sing a little song, and let our voices ring through air."

"A good idea," one gnome said. "But, sing alone. Go right ahead. If we all sang together, we'd get mixed up as could be."

"A song of good time, I suggest. Now, young man, do your very best. I wonder, can you make up clever words? We'll shortly see."

Then Scouty jumped upon a stone and said, "All right, I'll sing alone." The Twines and the gnomes sat down. Said one, "It's like a show."

"Keep smiling," little Scouty sang. "Upon a tree limb you should hang all of your petty troubles. Then, away they'll quickly blow."

"If you are cheerful, you will see that things are as they ought to be."

There's lot of fun for everyone. Be sure and get your share.

"Just don't let frowns spread 'cross your face." The world is really quite a place." His song then stopped, and Dotty loudly shouted. "That was rare!"

"The lad gave us some good advice. He's right! The world is pretty nice." And then another voice cried, "Sure it is! I ought to know."

"I am a wood nymph, running free, and everything appeals to me. I love the flowers and birds and beasts, no matter where I go. "Right now I'm bound for some place new. I'll think it fine, if all of you will join me. You'll be very glad, ere night o'takes the day."

"Hurrah," cried Coppy. "Fun's in store. We're always ready for some more."

Then to the nymph he shouted, "We will follow. Lead the way." (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.) (The Twines find a famous old man in the next story.)

CRIMINAL CODE BILL IS SAVED FROM LAWYERS

Judiciary Committee's Efforts to Kill Amendments Fails

Springfield, Ill., June 13—(AP)—Efforts of the lawyer-controlled judiciary committee to kill the proposed criminal code by keeping it off the floor of the House until it was too late to have been frustrated.

The code, written by a commission which included a number of university law professors and several prominent jurists, has been in the custody of the House judiciary committee—on which all lawyer members serve—since early in the session. While in their hands it has been amended so many times that proponents claim it is emasculated.

Numerous efforts to get the committee to report the bill to the House in one form or another have failed.

As the session neared an end it appeared certain the code, which makes many far reaching changes in the present criminal practice, would die in the committee when the assembly adjourned sine die.

Late last night the code, in substantially the same form as it first went to the judiciary committee, was again introduced in the House. Benjamin Adamowski, Chicago Democratic leader, obtained, after a lively fight on the part of a number of lawyers members to have it sent to the judiciary committee, its advancement to second reading without reference to committee.

The bill now occupies virtually the same place on the House calendar as its predecessor would have if it had been reported out with a recommendation for passage by the judiciary committee without the numerous amendments it has added.

Adamowski Favorable
Adamowski, a lawyer, is one of the few committee members who has been favorable to the proposed code.

The judiciary committee has 40 members, every lawyer in the House being a member. It is the only House committee on which a majority are Republicans but opposition to the code has been non-partisan as Democratic members as well have been active in the efforts to keep the bill in committee until it was too late for House action.

Barrymore Back for Divorce Fight

"I've never been angry at any of my wives, why should I be at this one?" John Barrymore wanted to know when he was questioned about details of Helene Costello Barrymore's divorce action, to whose charges his business manager replied in Los Angeles. Hardluck Robert

Chicago, June 13—(AP)—When bigger winning bets are missed on the race track, Robert McMillen probably will miss them.

At Latonia, back in 1912, McMillen owned and trained a horse named Wishing Ring. He entered his horse in a race one day, but forgot to buy a ticket on him. Wishing Ring won, paying $1,185.50 for each two dollar mutuel ticket, the record payoff on the turf to date.

Yesterday, McMillen roamed around Washington Park but forgot to bet on Printemps. The horse won and paid off at $250 to 1, the biggest mutuel price of the year in America.

And one of the highest in the history of American racing. But McMillen wasn't the only one who missed. His friend and owner of Printemps, Clarence Davison of Chicago, also forgot to get a bet down. Because of the long odds on Printemps, the daily double paid off at $1,365. Fire Advance, owned by Alderman John Coughlin of Chicago, was the other half winner of the double.

ANNUAL FLOWER SALE FOR BLIND HERE SATURDAY

Proceeds to be Used in Services to Unfortunate Here

The annual flower sale for the benefit of the blind will be held in Dixon Saturday under the auspices of the American Brotherhood for the Blind, a non-sectarian non-profit organization, the proceeds of the sale being devoted solely to assist those deprived of the greatest blessing of life. The flowers to be sold at the homes and on the streets are made by the blind. Among the local people sponsoring the work are: Rev. Lloyd W. Walter, Rev. Fr. T. L. Walsh, Rev. J. Franklin Young, Mrs. M. A. White, Mrs. A. H. Ahrens, Mrs. Margaret Scriven, Mrs. C. Dysart, with Miss Genevieve Lally in charge of the sale.

The American Brotherhood renders a nation-wide service to those devoid of sight in many personal ways, such as supplying material for them to work with in their own homes and by helping them to dispose of their products. White canes are furnished to those who request them. Over 10,000 volumes of Braille have been embossed by the organization and placed in schools, libraries and in institutions where they are available for the blind. The All Story Braille magazine is being published monthly, a reprint of the best literature of other current magazines, and at the request of the Veterans Administration in Washington is being sent to veterans throughout the country. The little flowers are to be sold for whatever the purchaser is willing to contribute to this state-wide work.

Pitts Relegates Himself to Background in Baseball Controversy

Albany, N. Y., June 13—(AP)—Edwin C. "Alabama" Pitts, one week ago an obscure prisoner known only to a few sports fans, today relegated himself to the background as a nation wide controversy raged over his professional baseball status.

Pitts, football and baseball star at Sing Sing prison, has been declared ineligible to play organized baseball and Kenesaw Mountain Landis is considering an appeal.

Since he walked out of Sing Sing last Thursday, Pitts has received offers to turn cameraman, referee, writer, businessman and numerous other things, but "sits tight" pending Landis' decision.

He is bewildered by all the fuss stirred up over his eligibility and leaves most of the talking to Johnny Evers, general manager of the Albany club.

Rodak Meets Ramey to Pick Challenger for Barney Ross' Crown

Chicago, June 13—(AP)—Leo Rodak of Chicago, a recent graduate to the professional fighting ranks, and Wesley Ramey, one time boy marvel from Grand Rapids, Mich., meet in a 12 round battle tonight to determine which would be nominated to haunt Barney Ross for a shot at his lightweight championship.

Ramey, now 25 years old, won a decision over Canzoneri in a non-title fight before Tony put his crown on the block and lost it to Ross. He never got another chance at the title. Rodak, a golden gloves graduate, started out well on his professional career, but was set back by the same Canzoneri in a non-title battle.

The First 500 Miles Are the Sanest

Nine out of every ten automobile accidents which in 1934 involved driving errors resulted from too much speed. It is shown by reports compiled by the Travelers Insurance Company. This fact is brought out in numerous ways by the statistics on automobile accidents, among which are these:

The rate of death in 1934 per accident on highways was more than 100 per cent greater than the average for all accidents combined. This shows that the highway is no place for a driver to be "asleep at the switch."

The rate of death per accident on highways was 131 per cent worse last year than the average for all accidents combined. The question has been asked, "what does the driver think about when he goes around a curve too fast or on the wrong side of the road?"

Government mortality statistics show that the rate of death from automobile accidents continues to mount faster in rural territories than in urban districts. In 1933, the latest year that such statistics are available, the death rate from automobile accidents increased 6.4 per cent compared to 1932. In urban districts it increased 4.5 per cent, while in rural territories it increased 10.1 per cent. From 1923 to 1933 inclusive, the total death rate from automobile accidents increased 58.7 per cent, although in urban districts it increased only 32.8 per cent. In rural territories, however, the rate of death jumped 101.9 per cent.

Many motorists fail to appreciate the fact that "the person who always drives at a reasonable rate of speed saves gasoline, trouble, money and human life." Don Herold in his cartoon above hits the nail on the head. He wonders why drivers usually are so careful breaking in new cars but are so careless with their own lives and the lives of others just as soon as the "breaking-in" distance has been traveled.

DAILY HEALTH

ACNE
The subject of acne is of continuous interest. Many a discouraged young man and young woman literally plague the doctor, expecting an immediate remedy for a condition which, by virtue of its "blatant evidence" embarrasses them no end.

Acne, a form of skin eruption which makes its presence known through the formation of pimples on the face and parts of the body can in most instances be cured, or be so appreciably improved as to practically amount to a cure. But to succeed one must persevere in treatment and observe the rules and regulations stipulated with care.

In dealing with acne it is important to exclude and to remedy any predisposing systemic condition, such as constipation, indigestion, foci of infection in teeth, nose and throat, tonsils, etc.

The hygiene of the acne sufferer usually requires correction. Alcohol should not be used; tobacco, coffee and tea should be used sparingly. Foods rich in sugar, fats and oils, particularly the vegetable fats, should be eaten only moderately. Pickles, rich cheeses, pork, sausages and any food that produces gastric distress should be avoided. So, too, the acne sufferer should abstain from highly seasoned foods and hot soups.

Cleanliness is of major importance. Ordinary soap and water are best. Generally the pimply skin is oily and hence most facial creams are of little value.

If such general dietetic and hygienic measures do not produce results expert medical help should be secured. The sufferer should not use the "next fellow's" remedies, for every patient is a unique case. Acne which does not yield to hygienic handling can usually be treated effectively by means of properly prescribed lotions, pastes, vaccines, etc.

JUBILEE of A STRUGGLING ARTIST

A PRODUCT of London's East Side, Barnett Freedman, in competition with 19 other artists, drew the successful design for the silver jubilee stamp of Great Britain. Born of Jewish parents in the humble Stepney district, Freedman enjoyed little play and school life because of continued illness. For four years he lay flat on his back in London Hospital. During that time he taught himself to draw and, after regaining health, went to night school and won a scholarship. Soon his paintings became famous. Today, at 33, married and with one child, Freedman modestly continues his painting career.

His design is famous for its simplicity. It shows the profile of King George, the crown at the left and symbols of laurel or olive, varying with the values, at the right.

New York, June 13 —(AP)—

James J. (Long Shot) Braddock will get the opportunity tonight to spring one of the greatest fistic upsets of all time when he battles the clouting Californian Max Baer for the heavyweight championship of the world.

The weather outlook was not much brighter, however, than the prospects for the gallant but lightly regarded challenger from New Jersey.

Braddock was on the short end of 5 to 1 odds that seemed certain to lengthen by the time the clans gather around the ringside and the weather man predicted "occasional showers" during the day. The title card will be postponed until Friday night if there is too much rain.

At least nine of every ten customers willing to pay from $2 to $20 for eyewitness privileges in Madison Square Garden's sprawling open-air arena on Long Island planned to cheer the underdog enthusiastically regardless of the prospect that they will see him very soundly whipped.

To Cheer Challenger
They may rattle around the bowl a bit, these fans, for it seemed unlikely there would be more than 35,000 spectators in an arena built to handle more than twice that number. But they promised to give the challenger all the vocal encouragement possible.

All experts have conceded Jimmy's improvement, his courage under fire and the intensity of his preparation to achieve the fistic goal of a 15-time. Critics and fans alike have had their imagination captured by Braddock's uphill battle to achieve the heavyweight heights. Braddock can win, but with what? Raw courage alone can't save him from the champion's withering blasts. The roar of the crowd can't keep him on his feet if he runs into Baer's bombardment too often. Determination and ambition, born of necessity, don't furnish the answer to a smashing right hand wallop to the chin. Braddock can "take it," but so can

Bringing Home the Soup

What a fish story Baron Munchausen could have made out of Captain Earl Montgomery's adventure at Miami, Fla. As a lark Montgomery wrestled with a 400-pound sea turtle. The huge reptile proves that it is the ducking bronco of the sea.

Baer, Braddock can punch, but not with the speed or the ferocity of the champion. Braddock can win, but how?

Braddock's Only Chance
The challenger's only chance, it seems, depends upon an unexpected opening early in the fight of a flash of carelessness by the champion. They both have the same weapons but Baer's are the sharper and most explosive.

The champion won't have the crowd with him—unless they are yelling for the kill! After the fashion typical of the American fight crowds—but he will have the speed, the strength and the power to achieve his objective, an early knockout.

Baer is ambitious, too, and he has youth in his favor along with his other physical advantages and his rare confidence. The Californian, in his prime, has yet to capitalize his hold on the heavyweight championship to the extent comparable with Dempsey, Tunney, or even Sharkey.

Must Win Decisively
He has probably made more money out of the ring than in it. He figures to "cash in" with two or three more championship matches, this year and next, then retire. He must whip Braddock decisively first.

Tonight's fight may be the last conducted under the promotion of Madison Square Garden for the heavyweight title for some time. Only an upset triumph by Braddock, who is under contract to the Garden, could continue the hold of Tex Rickard's successors on the main pugilistic plum tree.

Baer's next championship fight, if he wins, will be under the auspices of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, the Garden's metropolitan rival.

Champion and challenger weigh in this afternoon at 1 o'clock at the state athletic commission office. The Garden bowl opens at 5 P. M. and the main bout, slated for 15 rounds goes on at 9 P. M. (8 P. M. CST). The fight will be broadcast over a nationwide (NBC) hook-up.

There are twice as many theaters in Great Britain as in France, yet Paris alone has 600 picture houses and London only 500.

Don't think because a judge is small that he isn't a fine-imposing man.

ATHLETICS GET HOT WITH FOXX BACK AT FIRST

Change Has Pepped Up Connie Mack's Team Very Noticeably

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

It appears unlikely that the Athletics will cut much of a figure in the American league pennant race, but if they can keep going at anything like their current pace it will be hard to hold them down in the second division.

When Connie Mack took Jimmie Foxx from behind the plate to get the star slugger's steady influence back into the infield on May 25, the A's had a .308 average. Since then they've marked up 12 victories against seven defeats—a .632 clip. They raise their average to .444 after yesterday's third straight triumph over the Indians and cut Washington's sixth-place margin to a half game.

The A's had to overcome a bad start yesterday, Al Benton giving the Indians there runs in the first inning when Hal Trosky belted his ninth homer of the season, but they chased Mel Harder to the showers in the seventh and won 7 to 5. Earl Averill and O'Dell Hale of the Indians and Wally Moses of the A's also hit homers.

Sox Gain Half Game

Washington took a 7 to 2 drubbing from the White Sox, who did some heavy stickwork behind Ted Lyons' five-hit flinging. The Sox gained a half game on the league-leading Yankees, who could get no better than an even break with the home-run-hitting Browns. The Yanks won the opener 11 to 4 for Lefty Gomez despite two circuit swats by Julius (Moose) Solters, but his third, plus one by Ed Coleman with two aboard, proved too much in the afterpiece and St. Louis pulled out a 7-6 decision.

"With 'Pop'—formerly 'School-boy'—Rowe celebrating the increase in his family by pitching a three-hit game, the Tigers registered the day's biggest gain. They hopped from fifth place past Boston and Cleveland into third with a 4 to 1 triumph over the Red Sox.

Cardinals Regain Second
The Cardinals produced a day's only change in the National leading standing, regaining their undisputed hold on second place by winning two games from the Braves while the Pirates were taking one from Brooklyn.

Boston fought well before going down 8 to 6 and 5 to 4. Dizzy Dean, who answered a hurry call to rescue Ed Heusser after the Braves had knotted the count in the eighth inning of the opener, got credit for his eighth victory when Terry Moore singled with the bases full in the ninth. KING SAXON WINS 13TH

Driving home a length ahead of Only One, C. H. Knebelkamp's King Saxon, a former $1400 pacer, scored his thirteenth victory in 15 starts in taking the $3750 Queens County Handicap at Aqueduct. Included in the field of five rivals was Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Discovery, which finished fifth. Above, King Saxon is shown crossing the finish ahead of Only One. Below is a closeup of the horse.

the sixth settled the second one. The Pirates plastered Emil Leonard and Johnny Babich for five runs in the seventh to come from behind and beat the Dodgers 7 to 3.

With Carl Hubbell pitching a steady game and Mel Ott belting his eleventh homer to recapture the National league lead, the league-leading Giants had little trouble trouncing Cincinnati 10 to 4.

The Cubs and Phillies hit one another with everything in sight and wound up with an even break in a twin bill, Chicago taking the opener 15 to 0 behind Larry French's five-hit elbowing and Philadelphia the nightcap 11 to 8.

Chuck Klein copped individual honors with three home runs, two in the second game.

TAVERN OWNERS' PLEA FOR OPEN SUNDAY DENIED

Supervisors Reject Move to Permit Beer Sales on Sabbath Day

A roll call vote, 19 to 7, of the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon defeated a move of road house owners to secure open hours on Sundays. The resolution which was drafted and submitted by the judiciary committee carried a provision that road houses would be permitted to sell beer on Sundays from 12 to 2 o'clock noon and from 5 to 7 in the evening. It was expected that the road house owners would make another effort to secure Sunday open hours at today's meeting of the board in face of the defeat administered at yesterday afternoon's session.

The resolution of the judiciary committee recommended a better spirit of cooperation through the allowance of open hours on Sundays. Some of the members of the committee contended that the road house proprietors had complained that their business was suffering through their not being permitted to dispense beer with meals served on Sunday, and to meet this complaint a double shift recommendation was submitted. After the reading of the resolution, the board remained silent for some time until Assistant Supervisor William Rose of Dixon moved its adoption as a means of placing the measure before the board. Assistant Supervisor Stanley seconded the action and debate was then in order.

No Set Meal Hours
Chairman Higby of the association told the board that the road houses had no set hours for the serving of meals on Sundays. He added that the road house owners had agreed to cooperate with the board and he sheriff's office, but charged the resolution showed no spirit of cooperation upon the part of the supervisors. Supervisor Henry Kretsch inquired the length of time the resolution would be effective to which Supervisor Ramsdell replied:

"Until this board meets again in September."

Chairman William Burhenn called upon members of the committee to explain their attitude upon the measure. Supervisor Hart stated that in his opinion the resolution invited cheating. He added that he was not speaking in favor of the road houses as he did not care whether they existed or not.

Other road house operators spoke opposing the resolution stating that by splitting the open Sunday hours into two shifts it would be practically impossible to meet the competition of adjoining counties, where it was stated, Lee county was being laughed at.

Supervisor William Avery asked for a roll call vote which resulted in the defeating of the resolution by a vote of 19 to 7.

Seeks Aid for Road

Supervisor Kranov of Harmon township presented a request to the board citing the fact that the board had appropriated the sum of $2,750 for the purpose of improving the Lee-DeKalb county line road north of the village of Lee and asking for the appropriation of a sum of $1,350 for the improvement of a one mile stretch of road on the Lee-Whiteside county line road, of which Whiteside county's share has already been improved. The request was referred to the road and bridge committee to report at this meeting.

Coroner Frank M. Banker reported having in his possession the sum of $59 collected for inquests and was instructed to deposit the sum with the county treasurer.

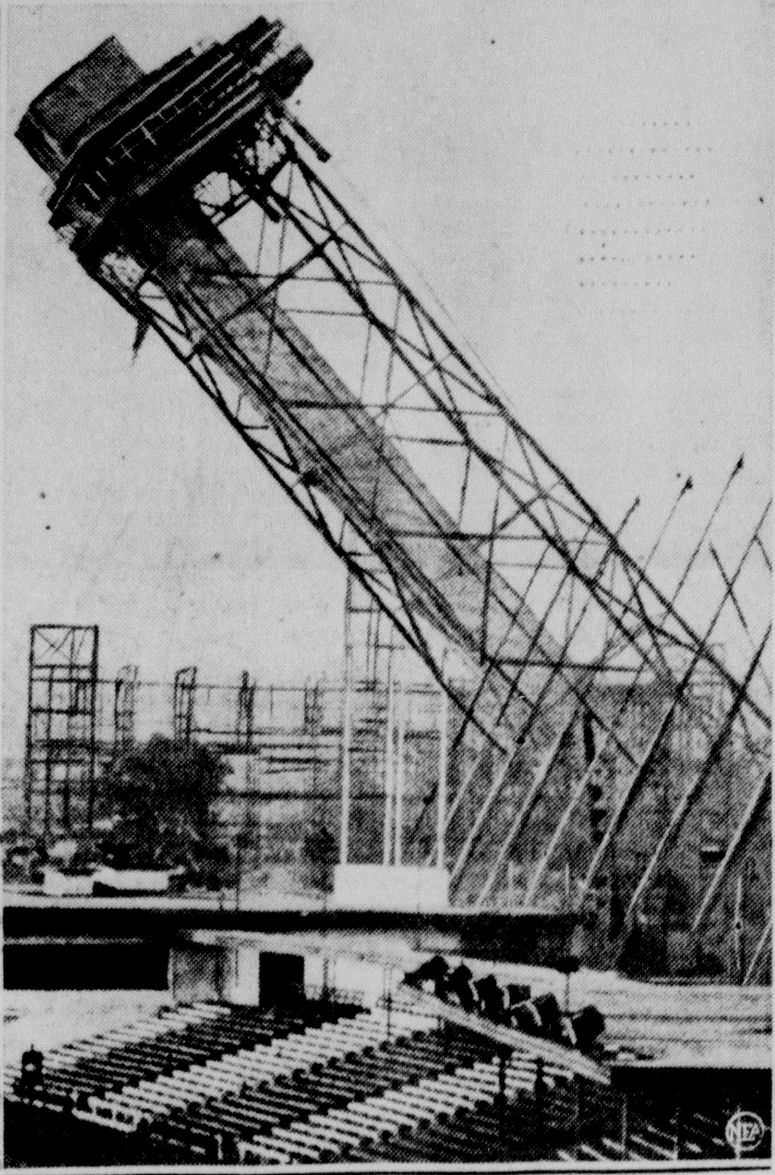

County Superintendent of Schools L. W. Miller in a communication to the board, pointed out that his assistant Mrs. Allen P. Read had submitted to a salary reduction two years ago from $100 to $72 monthly and requesting that the board increase her salary in proportion to amounts paid in other of the county offices. The request was referred to the fees and salaries committee.

The road and bridge committee recommended the granting of county aid to East Grove township in the amount of $512.85 as requested by Highway Commissioner McBride, the amount to be used in the construction of a box culvert.

Salaries Increased

The fees and salaries committee reported increasing the salaries of two deputies in the office of Circuit Clerk E. S. Rosecrans, which were reduced two years ago. Miss Maude Gitt's salary as chief deputy was increased to $110 per month and the salary of John O. Shaulis, Jr., was increased from $68 to $75 monthly. In acting upon the salary increase Supervisor John Finn asked for a roll call which resulted in a vote of 15 to 6 in favor of the measure.

The two janitors at the court house presented a request for the increase of their salaries from $80 to $100 per month, both having been reduced two years ago by the board when a general reduction was made. The request was referred to the fees and salaries committee to report at this meeting.

The finance committee presented a recommendation, which was adopted, fixing the bond of County Treasurer Walter L. Ortiesen at $100,000 instead of $70,000 the amount of the present bond.

The fees and salaries committee reported the amount of $2,800 to be the salary of Dr. R. R. Dwyre, county veterinarian, which was concurred in by the board.

NORMAL SCHOOL BILL INCREASE GIVEN SENATE

Potential Appropriation Boosted by New Senate Bill

Springfield, Ill., June 13—(AP)—The five state normal schools, which have been asking $4,120,111 for the next two years, have succeeded in obtaining a potential increase of $354,650 above the $3,184,900 the administration originally intended them to receive.

A normal school bill appropriating $4,120,111 was introduced April 11 by Senators Mayor, Siebens, Dixon, Kribs and Mundy, in whose districts the five institutions are located.

The sum asked was $935,211 higher than the amount the administration has provided in a bill which had been introduced by Louis O. Williams, Clinton Democrat.

A number of conferences intended to compromise the difference were held and late yesterday the Senate adopted amendments to the Williams bill increasing the $3,184,900 to $3,539,550.

The amended bill has yet to pass the Senate and then must be considered by the House before going to the governor.

The increases, all in the salary and wage items, put into the Williams bill follow:

Illinois State Normal at Normal, $805,550 instead of $695,500; Eastern State Normal at Charleston, $483,350 instead of $420,000; Western State Teachers College at Macomb, $518,750 instead of $460,000; Northern Illinois Normal at DeKalb, $475,000 instead of $420,000; Southern Normal at Carbondale, $631,500 instead of $564,500.

tend a meeting called for 8 o'clock Thursday evening, June 13 at the Amboy city hall for the purpose of getting the movement under way to utilize the tennis courts at the city park and to further develop the playground facilities of the park. A group of young people are now working hard to form the nucleus of an organization to foster the project. It is proposed that the courts shall be reconstructed and put in first class shape. It is also proposed to lay out a soft ball diamond for afternoon and twilight play, but not to include a lighted field. A plan may also be developed whereby the use of the old floral hall on the fairgrounds can be used for the holding of stunt programs on the stage. Should the project grow into the size program its backers are anxious that it shall, some arrangements will be made for scheduling of the use of the sport accommodations to avoid any misunderstanding or the inconvenience of any team or player.

Mrs. Bert Hewitt underwent a major operation at the Amboy hospital this week.

Lee County Home Property Unusually Attractive at This Time of the Season

Supt. and Matron in Midst of Their Busiest Activities

Residents of Lee county visiting the county home near Eldena will find the property most attractive at this particular time of the year. The generous rains followed by the warm sunshine and the foresight of Superintendent and Matron Mr. and Mrs. Willis Fry, combine in making the property a beauty spot which many citizens of the county as can, should visit, as they are welcome at all times.

Mrs. Fry with her assistants have this spring the most beautiful and attractive flower gardens in many seasons. This is due to a great extent to the rains and warm sun. Mrs. Fry is a lover of old fashioned flowers and shrubs and these are provided in profusion.

The gardens over which she has direct supervision are located between the buildings and the road. Beds of well known varieties of perennials, ornamental shrubs, vines and bushes make this department of the county home, a spot where a considerable time can be spent by flower lovers. Offsetting the flower beds are fish pools, rock gardens, arbors and trellises, ornamental benches and numberless bird houses all of which are inhabited to more than capacity. Numerous ferneries in shaded spots provide an attractive background for many of the flower beds which at this time of the season, are profusion of bloom.

Lee county residents are proud of the County Home as well as the superintendent and matron, Mr. and Mrs. Fry. The work of planting the flower beds furnishes profitable pastime for several of the inmates who enjoy many happy hours in the gardens.

Extensive Crops
The task of planting the crops is another and extensive department, where practically all of the food-stuff for the institution is raised. Supt. Willis Fry this season has under cultivation at the home, 30 acres of corn, 20 acres of oats, 20 acres of hay and 20 acres for pasture. Almost five acres are planted in potatoes, sufficient to supply the institution next year. About two acres are planted in mixed vegetables. There is a spacious strawberry bed and numerous varieties of fruit trees are planted about the property.

The county home committee of the board of supervisors is very proud of the pure bred Holstein dairy herd at the institution, consisting of 16 head of these fine cattle. There is also a herd of 56 high grade Duroc Jersey hogs. A flock of 700 chickens were raised this spring and in addition there are 150 small ducks. The above furnishes an ample supply of wholesome pure milk, plenty of fresh meat and poultry for the inmates. Superintendent Fry also takes considerable pride in his stable of five head of fine young Percherons which are used in cultivating the crops.

The county board of supervisors paid their annual inspection visit to the county home Wednesday afternoon, where they were afforded an opportunity to inspect the entire equipment and crops. At the noon hour they were the guests of Superintendent and Matron, Mr. and Mrs. Fry who provided themselves most gracious hosts in providing a sumptuous meal.

After the dinner, Chairman Charles Ramsdell of the county home committee called upon County Judge William L. Leech to act as toastmaster, and an hour followed with short talks by many of the county officers, all of whom commended the host and hostess for their kindness and courteous treatment of Lee county's unfortunate citizens and the efficient manner in which the county home is managed.

COMPTON NEWS

By Faye Archer
Compton — Funeral services for the late Mrs. Ellen Brewer were held Thursday afternoon from the home at 1:30 and from the Union Church, Malugin Grove, at 2:00, with Rev. R. L. McKelvey conducting. Mrs. Clifford Ogilvie accompanied by Mrs. Rollo Richardson at the organ sang two beautiful hymns. Burial was made in Union cemetery. Pall bearers were George McKern, Bert Harley, William A. Bettner, Joseph Gehant, August Bettner and L. Scott.
Ellen Brewer was born at Elma, New York, June 18, 1853 and died at her home northwest of Compton Monday evening, June 3, 1935.
In 1869 she was united in marriage to G. W. Brewer. They resided in Buffalo, New York for about five years after their marriage and then moved to a farm north of Mendota where they were engaged in farming for a number of years. A few years later they returned to their present home north of Compton where she had resided for over 43 years. In early life she was uning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Bartsch of Bellewood.

Harvey F. Cook accompanied by Richard Hamilton, Sterling, Ray Price and Pat Croh, Paw Paw, attended a meeting of agents of the C. B. & Q. Railway, held in Aurora Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Grover Carnahan will entertain the members of the Circle 1 of the M. E. Ladies Aid at a tea at her home Friday.

'Too Many Do This

The type of driver illustrated here is not uncommon, as he can be seen 'doing his stuff' most any time, and especially upon a street or highway when a lot of traffic is in line.

That this driver is a danger not only to himself and the occupants of his car but to every user of the highway is shown by the record of automobile accidents for last year. There were nearly 20,000 accidents caused by the "cutting-in" driver last year, and according to statistics of the Travelers Insurance Company, there were nearly 600 deaths and more than 22,000 persons injured in 1934 as a result of such a practice.

The optimistic driver believes in taking a chance, while the pessimist may have a sadder but surely a longer life.

Compton Oilers won over the Sublette team there Sunday afternoon before a record crowd by a score of 8 to 4 to even the count in the league standing column, with two won and two lost. Sublette used two twirlers against the Compton batsmen, while Hermann had complete control of the mound through the entire game, striking out 18, with Spohn being credited with three and Cosgrove only one.

With warm weather prevalent last Sunday afternoon "Frenchy" Henry got back into last season's form and cracked out two doubles in succession to score Compton's first two runs. Hermann was equally effective at the plate as on the mound, getting two singles, and a double along with a walk, scoring two runs for Compton, when Campbell doubled in the fourth for run number 5. In the fifth inning seen, first batter for Sublette ended on a floater from Hermann, and buried the ball into a pile of allroad ties that graced the outfield garden (at the end of the game the home run ball was still in hiding). In the seventh inning errors connected with Montavon's and W. Chaon singles, produced four runs to sustain a healthy margin on the score board. From thence on there was hardly a doubt as to the final results of the game.

Next Sunday Ohio will furnish the opposition at the Carnahan service station baseball park for Manager Webber's Oilers. Tuesday Compton will play an exhibition game with West Brooklyn at the Annual Farmers Picnic at Paw Paw.

After you have that auto accident do you not wish you had one of the Dixon Telegraph's Accident $10,000 Accident Insurance Policy. It costs but $1.40 for a year's protection.

America's No. 1 Birdwoman

With grave intensity and concentration, these eagle-eyes are fixed on the motor whose correct overhaul may mean new speed records or life itself. They are the eyes of Amelia Earhart Putnam, No. 1 birdwoman of the U. S. A., who is shown here in a camera study which well reveals the character in the intent face below the famous windblown bob.

Government Bank Unsited to U. S.

Would Serve Politics Rather Than Business Needs, Says R. S. Hecht, Citing Previous Experiences.

QUOTES PRESIDENT JACKSON

Extent and Diversity of This Country Presents Different Situation From Europe and Makes Regional Banking Necessary.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A refutation of arguments in favor of a government-owned central bank system for the United States is presented in a statement by R. S. Hecht, President of the American Bankers Association, on the basis of exhaustive studies of European central banks. He also points out the disastrous consequences of previous central bank experiments in America.

"Our present regional Federal Reserve system under private ownership is infinitely better for this country than would be a government-owned and controlled central bank," Mr. Hecht says. "If history teaches us anything, it is that it is almost certain that a central bank so owned would be run to meet the varying exigencies of the government in power rather than to serve the commercial needs of the country."

Central banking has been tried twice in the United States, but was finally abolished because the credit control which the central banks exercised became objectionable and unpopular, he goes on to say.

What Andrew Jackson Said "The continued existence of the Second Bank finally became a bitter political issue and President Jackson succeeded in abolishing it," Mr. Hecht says. "Permit me to quote from his farewell address: 'The immense capital and peculiar privileges bestowed upon it enabled it to exercise despotic sway over the other banks in every part of the country. From its superior strength it could seriously injure, if not destroy, the business of any of them which might incur its resentment.... If you had not conquered, the government would have passed from the hands of the many to the hands of the few; and this organized money power, from its secret conclave, would have dictated the choice of your government officers.... The forms of your government might, for a time, have remained, but its living spirit would have departed from it.'"

When the Wilson Administration considered banking reform it carefully kept away from vesting central banking powers in a single institution and instead introduced the regional idea by creating twelve reserve banks located in different economic and geographical sections of the country. Mr. Hecht says, a plan that has worked exceedingly well.

"Our studies show that of all the central banks at present existing there are only four whose stock is owned by the government."

The American Bankers Association, Mr. Hecht says, is convinced that a central bank would not be in the interest of the public or the banks. Its position, he concludes, is well understood by the President and the leaders in his Administration, for we have been absolutely frank with them in all of our discussions and have missed no opportunity for emphasizing that in our opinion no banking system will, in the long run, be sound if it is dominated entirely by the ever-changing political administrations. We should do all we can to keep our banking mechanism as far removed from partisan politics as possible."

Mr. and Mrs. John Bodmer entertained a few friends and relatives at their home Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Bodmer's birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bernardin of Milwaukee, Wis., spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bernardin.

Miss Anna Gibson of Lindenwood was a visitor Wednesday at the Jesse Bender home. Anna Evers who has been a guest the past week here, returned to Lindenwood with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bonnell and Corners, to Route 2, west of Lee Center.

Viola Center—Mrs. Jefferson K. Kemper and Mrs. Ernie Lewis visited Sunday, with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amil Bresson in Ashton.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael McMahon of Decatur spent the week end at the Charles Clapine home.

A meeting was held at the Viola town hall Thursday evening for the purpose of making the first steps for clearing the right of way for completing the paving of Route 71, from the intersection at Speedway

Summer Sweethearts

By Mabel McElliot © 1935, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
KATHARINE STRYKHURST beautiful, 20, falls in love with MICHAEL HEATHEROE who owns a riding academy. Katharine's father is rich and her stepmother is snobbish.
Michael becomes engaged to SALLY MOON, local coquette due to Sally's scheming. In spite of this, Michael asks Katharine to marry him and, impulsively, she agrees. The marriage takes place in an obscure little town. Katharine and Michael each go to their own homes. Almost immediately Michael learns he has inherited a fortune and title. He goes to New York to see the lawyer in charge and is injured in a traffic accident. Sally, unaware of Michael's marriage to Katharine, locates him in a hospital and takes charge of the situation.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXI

NO woman in all the world had ever been so grievously humiliated. Katharine Strykhurst was certain of that.

An older—indeed, a wiser and less sensitive woman—would have taken affairs into her own hands. This brooding girl knew nothing to do but wait. She had no weapons with which to battle the problem that faced her. All she knew was that a gay, handsome, reckless youth had bidden her come and she had gone. Like the merest will-o'-the-wisp, she had followed him to marry him, only to be cast aside.

This much she knew. Michael Heatheroe had married her and then had gone away. The newspapers a day or two later had announced the news of his inheritance. Katharine had waited every day for a sign from him. None had come. Later she had heard, through some casual gossip, the story of his accident. "Now," she said to herself, with a fast-beating heart, "now at last he will send for me."

But there was only silence. Silence and the growing conviction of a fearful wrong done.

She had confided in Violet Merse in the first flush of her anger. Violet had advised her to wait and see what happened. This Katharine had done. And nothing had happened. . . . not a thing to reassure her. Not one message had come through from the man whose hand she had taken that day in a sleepy Connecticut town.

Her ring she had given to him. She had not a shadow of proof. Not, she reminded herself hotly and proudly, that she wanted any. Oh, but it had been a wanton joke to play on her! She who had kept herself so cool and remote all these years at last had "given her heart to the hawks."

She writhed at the thought. Violet watched her through the days with a growing anxiety. There was a savage pity in the eyes she turned to the fair-haired girl. Long ago Violet, too, had suffered just such a hurt and it had smothered her earlier years. It was a previous shame, thought the older woman.

family, Wilbur Vickrey, Amil Vincent and Miss Maude Vincent moved to Lowell park, "the Pines" and Castle Rock Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McDougall and daughter visited at the Wendell Swope home Sunday.

Miss Ruth Newhausen of Amboy was a Sunday guest at the home of Mrs. John Bodmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bernardin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bernardin, Miss Ruth Newhausen and Mrs. John Bodmer an family were visitors Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bernardin of near Lee.

George Bernardin is driving a fine new car.

THERE was such a thing as an nulent Katharine mused dully one sunny afternoon.

"Of course, I wondered when you'd think of that," said Violet, consoling. She had not dared to mention the word herself.

"But the publicity!" Katharine, groaning, buried her face in her hands. To think that her defeat, her folly should be dragged into the open for all the world to see!

Violet suggested that these things were often handled discreetly so that no least word was printed in the newspapers. She had known once of such a case. . . .

The girl, listening, lifted a haggard face.

"Why don't you go to New Mexico, as Evelyn asked you to?" Violet asked reasonably. "Put the thing into the hands of some lawyer who can be trusted and go away and think no more of it."

It was, however, more easily said than done. Victor Strykhurst himself, Katharine reminded her friend, was a lawyer. To whom could they go? No one, assuredly, in their group of acquaintances.

"I'm afraid to trust anyone," Katharine said in a tone of bitterness that startled her hearer.

"Leave it to me," Violet said. Evelyn Vincent was going to New Mexico to stay with some friends who kept an informal sort of inn there. She had suggested weeks before that Katharine accompany her. At the time the plan had seemed far away and nebulous to the girl. Now it seemed a God-given way out of her difficulties.

She could bring her painting things, Evelyn said. The colors and shapes of things on the desert were truly divine.

Bertine vetoed the plan at once. Katharine sick with fury and despair, turned to her father.

"Bertine doesn't want you to go off God-knows-where with this woman," he fumed. "We've never heard of her." Something in the white haggardness of the girl's face stirred him. He said suddenly, "You're not ill, are you?"

"No. No." She clasped and unclasped her hands. "But I feel I need and want a change. Miss Vincent is a friend of the Merse's."

His face altered. "Whose?" "That nice woman in whose house I stayed when I . . ."

"Yes, yes, I remember," he said the words hastily. "You've said friends with them?"

KATHARINE'S darkening eyes roved to the window. The interview was exhausting all her feeble strength. She so seldom slept these nights. The hours from dark to daylight were her particular scourge, so difficult to be got through.

"I like her, yes. She's been very kind to me."

"Well—well." He promised to think it over. It was maddening, the girl decided, going out into the coolness of the garden, to be dependent on anyone. Next spring she would come into her mother's money. Then neither Bertine's whims nor her father's strictures should trouble her.

Bedloe's Island, now the site of the Statue of Liberty, was once the scene of executions for federal offenses. Hundreds of excursions made holiday trips to the hangings.

The most elaborate gold vaults in the world are those of the Bank of France. They are protected by 50 feet of solid rock and a subterranean lake 200 feet below the surface of the streets.

The United States consumed approximately $600,000,000 worth of malted liquors, beers, wines and spirits in 1914.

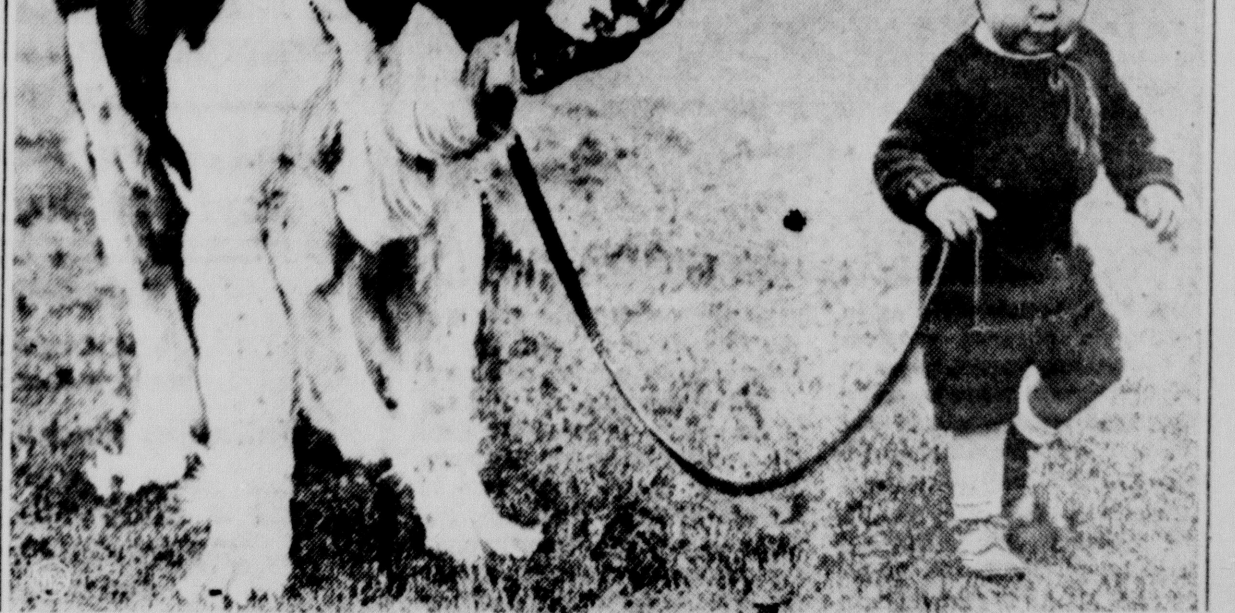

The record price paid for a polo pony is $22,000.

Vegetables are grown outdoors throughout the cold of winter near Redhill, Worcestershire. England. A mine fire burning in old worked-out galleries beneath the land of the farmers accounts for the phenomenon.

The custom of binding women's feet in China was abandoned at the beginning of this century. It started in 934 A. D., but a period of 100 years passed before it became popular.

In 1600, rules of etiquette dictated that "not more than three fingers might be employed to lift a portion of food from a dish to your plate."

"C'mon Big Boy!"

Champion Herouven Invincible is a prize St. Bernard, and bigger than a dozen Billy Minton's. But he knows who's boss. So after the ponderous pooch had won the title of Best of Breed at the Trenton, N. J. dog show, he followed tractably when 15-months-old Billy picked up the leash and started for a stroll.

WATCH KIDNEYS SAME AS BOWELS

Wash Out Your 79,200 Feet of Kidney Tubes

Your bowels contain only 27 feet of intestines, yet the kidneys contain nearly 10 million tiny tubes or filters which would measure 79,200 feet if laid end to end. Therefore, it is just as important to watch the kidneys as the bowels. Kidneys are working all the time and are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and poisonous waste out of the blood.

Healthy persons pass thru the bladder 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter. If you pass less than this, your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes may be clogged with poisonous waste. This is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Kidneys should be watched closely and need cleaning out the same as bowels. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help you wash out your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Victor Moore Says: "It's the Top in Motor Cars"

Victor Moore, now starring in Broadway's biggest musical hit, "Anything Goes", says: "I bought my new Dodge because of its striking looks . . . and was delighted to find that it gave me amazing gas and oil economy."

And Mrs. Gertrude Regal, 2953 Decatur Ave., Bedford Parkway, N. Y., N. Y., says: "I've got plenty of friends who own small cars, but none of them save money the way my new Dodge does. I get from 3 to 5 more miles per gallon of gas than they do, and my oil costs are as much as 20% less."

Wherever you go, the story is the same. Owners are simply amazed at Dodge economy. And yet that's only one of its advantages. You, too, can enjoy the extra roominess, comfort and luxury of this big, sturdy Dodge—for a trifling few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars. List price now only $645 and up at factory, Detroit.
